ABSOLUTE PARDON

THURMAN, Phillip

Crime: Rape
Assault and Battery
Abduction
Court: Alexandria Circuit Court
Sentence Date: June 7, 1985
Sentence: 31 years in the penitentiary.
Pardon Granted: December 22, 2005

Mr. Thurman was released on parole on November 17, 2004.

DNA evidence has exonerated subject of this crime.

Phillip Thurman was arrested on November 30, 1984 on suspicion in a rape committed in Alexandria, Virginia. He was incarcerated through his trial. He was convicted on June 7, 1985 by a jury in the Circuit Court of the City of Alexandria for rape, assault and battery, and abduction. He pled not guilty to all counts.

Mr. Thurman was sentenced on August 22, 1985 to serve a term of 31 years in the penitentiary. He was released on parole on November 17, 2004 after approximately 20 years of incarceration.

Mr. Thurman petitioned for a grant of Executive Clemency. The principal ground of the petition is that substantial evidence supports the conclusion that he was unjustly convicted and is actually innocent.

Several Virginia serologists saved biological evidence from their testing in their case files between 1973 and 1988, prior to the advent of DNA testing. The Department of Forensic Science has stored 660 boxes containing an estimated 165,000 case files from that time period. The samples retained by the Department of Forensic Science constitute a finite universe of cases. The evidence remnants retained by the state have a documented chain of custody.

On September 30, 2004, the Department of Forensic Science was ordered to review 10% of the boxes. This review resulted in 284 samples in 31 cases that met criteria for testing. Of those, DNA testing led to the exclusion of Mr. Thurman as a suspect in the crimes for which he was convicted.

The Alexandria Commonwealth's Attorney, S. Randolph Sengel, concurs in the judgment that Mr. Thurman has been exonerated of guilt in the crimes for which he was convicted. He has submitted a letter to me stating the following:

“[I] am satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt and to a reasonable degree of certainty that Phillip Thurman did not commit the offenses of which he was convicted in this case. I respectfully ask that Mr. Thurman be granted a pardon as to these offenses.”

After review of this case it was determined that a jury accorded the benefit of the information now available regarding this case would not have found Mr. Thurman guilty of the offenses for which he seeks clemency.

ABSOLUTE PARDON

DAVIDSON, Willie N.

Crime: Rape
Burglary
Forcible Sodomy (2 counts)
Court: Norfolk Circuit Court
Sentence Date: July 14, 1981
Sentence: 20 years in the penitentiary.
Pardon Granted: December 22, 2005

Mr. Davidson served his sentence and was released on parole April 9, 1992.

DNA evidence has exonerated subject of this crime.

Willie Neville Davidson was arrested on December 3, 1980 on suspicion of a rape committed in Norfolk. He was incarcerated through his trial. He was convicted on May 27, 1981 by a judge in the Circuit Court of the City of Norfolk of rape, burglary, and two counts of sodomy. He pled not guilty to all counts.

Mr. Davidson was sentenced on July 14, 1981 to serve a term of 20 years in the penitentiary for each offense, time to run concurrently. He was released on parole on April 9, 1992 after approximately 11 and a half years of incarceration.

Mr. Davidson has petitioned for a grant of Executive Clemency. The principal ground of the petition was that substantial evidence supports the conclusion that he was unjustly convicted and is actually innocent.

Several Virginia serologists saved biological evidence from their testing in their case files between 1973 and 1988, prior to the advent of DNA testing. The Norfolk Commonwealth's Attorney, John R. Doyle, concurs in the judgment that Mr. Davidson has been exonerated of guilt in the crimes for which he was convicted. He has submitted a letter to me stating the following:

"My careful analysis of these results and the evidence from the trial of this matter . . . convinces me beyond any question that these results exonerate Mr. Davidson from involvement in this offense."

After review of this case it was determined that a jury accorded the benefit of the information now available regarding this case would not have found Mr. Davidson guilty of the offenses for which he seeks clemency.

ABSOLUTE PARDON

HOPKINS, Troy D.

Crimes: Murder
Attempted Robbery
Use of a Firearm in the Commission of Murder
Use of a Firearm in the Commission of Attempted Robbery

Court: City of Richmond Circuit Court

Sentence Date: March 20, 1991

Sentence: 28 years

Pardon Granted: July 15, 2005

Troy D. Hopkins was convicted on December 21, 1990 by a jury in the Circuit Court of the City of Richmond for the murder of Curtis Kearney, and for attempted robbery, use of a firearm in the commission of murder, and use of a firearm in the commission of attempted robbery.

Mr. Hopkins was sentenced on March 20, 1991 to serve a term of twenty-eight years in the penitentiary, and was released on parole on March 31, 2001 after serving 10 years, two and one-half months.

After the trial numerous witnesses came forward and testified during the hearings that Troy D. Hopkins did not kill Curtis Kearney, but that Kearney was killed by Adrian Epps. Adrian Epps subsequently admitted killing Mr. Kearney and signed an affidavit in 1992 confessing to the murder.

The Commonwealth's Attorney at the time of trial, Joseph Morrissey, concurred in a defense request for a new trial based on newly discovered evidence, which was not granted by the court.

Commonwealth's Attorney David Hicks, who succeeded Mr. Morrissey in that office, submitted an affidavit in 2003 stating the following:

"In light of the wealth of exculpatory evidence, it is my position that Hopkins was convicted for a crime which he did not commit and that he is innocent of the crime in question. The continued existence and possible dissemination of information relating to Hopkins' unjust conviction represents a manifest injustice given the fact that Hopkins is wholly innocent of all crimes for which he was convicted. Hopkins should not be subject to the negative consequences that flow from his erroneous conviction. Therefore, in the interest of justice, Hopkins' conviction should be invalidated, the record should be corrected in order to reflect Hopkins' innocence regarding the crimes for which he was convicted, and all of Hopkins' rights should be restored to that of every citizen recognized in the Commonwealth of Virginia."

Mr. Hopkins is currently gainfully employed, married, and has led a law-abiding life since his release from incarceration.

Through his counsel, Mr. Hopkins petitioned Governor Mark Warner on July 21, 2004 for a grant of Executive clemency. The principal ground of the petition was that substantial evidence supports the position that he was unjustly convicted and is innocent.

After review of the case and Mr. Hopkins' clemency petition in detail, Governor Mark Warner found no fault with the verdict of the jury based on the evidence available to it at the time of trial. However, the Governor was convinced that Mr. Hopkins is innocent of the charges for which he was convicted and that a jury accorded the benefit of the information now available regarding this case would have found Mr. Hopkins not guilty of the offense for which he was granted clemency.

COMMUTATIONS

COMMUTATION OF SENTENCE

LOVITT, Robin McKennel

Crime: Robbery and Capital Murder
Court: County of Arlington Circuit Court
Sentence Date: November 3, 2000
Sentence: Death Penalty
Commutation Granted: November 30, 2005

In accordance with the powers granted to the Governor of Virginia under Article V. Section 12 of the Constitution of Virginia, Governor Mark R. Warner, reached the following conclusions and granted the following conditional commutation of sentence:

Robin McKennel Lovitt was brought to trial in the Circuit Court of the County of Arlington for robbery and the capital murder of Clayton Dicks. He was tried by a jury of his peers and found guilty as charged. The jury sentenced him to life in prison for the robbery conviction and to death for the murder conviction. The court entered sentence accordingly.

Since the date of verdicts and sentencing by the court, Robin McKennel Lovitt has made numerous appeals to courts of the Commonwealth and of the United States. Despite these opportunities to present evidence and legal arguments in his favor, every court that has heard his appeals, from the Supreme Court of Virginia to the Supreme Court of the United States, has confirmed his original sentence for capital murder.

Procedural History

On September 20, 1999, a jury in the Circuit Court of Arlington County found Robin McKennel Lovitt guilty of the capital murder and robbery of Clayton Dicks, and, in a separate proceeding, sentenced him to death. On November 3, 2000, the Supreme Court of Virginia unanimously affirmed his convictions and sentences.

On October 1, 2001, the Supreme Court of the United States denied his petition for a writ of certiorari. On January 22, 2002, he filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus in the Supreme Court of Virginia, which ordered the Arlington County Circuit Court to conduct an evidentiary hearing. On September 12, 2003, the Virginia Supreme Court accepted the Circuit Court's recommendation that the petition be denied and dismissed. The Virginia Supreme Court denied his subsequent petition for rehearing on November 7, 2003. The first execution date was then set for January 7, 2004.

COMMUTATIONS

Robin McKennel Lovitt then again appealed to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of certiorari, which the Court again denied on April 19, 2004. He filed a petition for habeas corpus relief with the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia on August 6, 2004, and the District Court vacated a stay of execution it had entered on December 23, 2003. On October 12, 2004, the District Court granted his application for a certificate of appealability to the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals on three claims. On November 9, 2004, the Fourth Circuit allowed him to include a fourth claim. On May 5, 2005, the Fourth Circuit denied his petition for rehearing. Arlington County then set the date for execution as July 11, 2005. He then appealed to the Supreme Court to prevent the execution. On July 11, 2005, the Court granted the stay of the execution, until such time as it could review the petition. On October 3, 2005, the Supreme Court denied the petition for a writ of certiorari, thereby terminating the stay of execution.

Cause for Clemency

The pivotal issue in Robin McKennel Lovitt's Petition for Clemency centers on the actions of the Chief Deputy Clerk for the Circuit Court of Arlington County, who destroyed biological and other evidence stored in the Office of the Clerk, in clear contravention of Section 19.2-270.4:1 of the Code of Virginia. While the Supreme Court did not rule in favor of the petitioner on his direct appeal, no habeas corpus decisions had been reached at the time of the destruction of the evidence. Notwithstanding the posture of the case, the Chief Deputy Clerk drafted an order for destruction of the evidence, even after colleagues cautioned him that the case involved the death penalty. The order was then routinely signed by a Circuit Court Judge. In compliance with the signed order, all biological evidence and most other evidence in this case was destroyed.

While the destruction of the evidence clearly violated Section 19.2-270.4:1 of the Code of Virginia, that section expressly provides that a petitioner cannot turn to the statute for relief in any habeas corpus or appellate proceeding. In my view, the appellate courts in this case properly concluded that, as a matter of law, the petitioner's conviction and sentence are shielded from challenge based on this provision.

However, capital punishment is the Commonwealth's most severe and final sanction. The system must operate with complete integrity and with the confidence of Virginians. I believe that throughout the successive and generous appeals of his case, the system has worked properly. However, I also believe that the Chief Deputy Clerk's act obscures the judicial branch's careful and serious consideration of this case, the destruction of evidence by an agent of the Commonwealth breached the public trust in the system, and the Commonwealth must therefore bear the burden of its agent's mistake.

COMMUTATIONS

In reaching his decision, the Governor recognized and respects the inherent obligation each branch of government has to afford each to the others the dignity accorded by our separation of powers. Nonetheless, Article V. Section 12 of the Constitution of Virginia confers the extraordinary power of clemency on the Governor when the ends of justice call for the discharge of such duty.

In order to maintain the integrity of a system that metes out the most severe punishment for the most grave crimes, the Governor granted Robin McKennel Lovitt the following Conditional Commutation of Sentence:

(1) I commute the sentence of death for capital murder to life imprisonment without the possibility of parole; and

(2) The foregoing commutation is conditioned upon Robin McKennel Lovitt maintaining good conduct and cooperating with Virginia Department of Corrections officials; accordingly, if at any time during his imprisonment he shall be guilty of a felony, including an attempt to escape, this commutation shall be rendered null and void; and

(3) Before this conditional commutation of sentence shall become effective, Robin McKennel Lovitt must accept the terms herein by signing this document at the place designated for his signature. Should he reject this grant either in whole or in part, the entire grant shall be revoked, and the sentence of the Circuit Court of the County of Arlington shall be carried out.
